There are three types of playing pieces (counters): combat units, representing the various types of fighting troops; leaders, the individuals who command the troops; and information markers, used to note certain types of information necessary for play.