4.31 An eligible leader, instead of issuing Individual Orders, may issue one or more Line Commands (given by the Line Command Rating). Each Line Command allows the leader to order any/all combat units that comprise a Line (4.32). The units that may comprise a Line are listed on the Line Command Eligibility Chart for each scenario. There is no limit to the number of units in a Line that may be so ordered, and all the eligible units in a Line do not have to take part. Units in a Line do not have to stay together when they move, although to do otherwise is to court organizational disaster.