A Line can be of any length provided that the units meet the adjacency requirements and all the units in the Line have the same orientation—either Flank-to-Flank or (but not and) Front-to-Rear (see 7.1). For units In Column, treat the Flank hexes adjacent to the Rear hex as Rear hexes. If the units meet the adjacency requirements, but do not have the same orientation, only those units within the leader's Command Range can be included in the Line.