Light Infantry: A generic term applied to foot units with little or no body armor, a light shield, and usually a spear and/or sword. Most light infantry had missile capability, although their tactics and training