4.51 Each Roman army receives one or more of the following: Tribunes, Praefects Sociorum (both for infantry) and Praefects Equitum (for cavalry). We have given the Tribunes and Praefects names that are ahistorical and solely for identification purposes. The numbers for each army vary according to the scenario. Tribunes and Praefects Sociorum can only command infantry units; Praefects Equitum only cavalry units.