6.51 During an enemy Movement and Missile Fire Segment, or at any time when resolving an Elephant Rampage (9.14), or at any time Elephants and Cavalry interact (9.16), any friendly unit (or any unit in a Rampage situation) that is not in an enemy ZOC may avoid contact with the moving unit the instant it moves within 2 hexes of the friendly inactive unit—or if it starts movement 2 hexes distant—as long as the inactive unit has a higher movement allowance than the moving combat unit. To do this, the friendly unit withdraws up to a number of MP (not hexes) equal to the difference between the movement allowances, away