EXAMPLE #2 (Rout/Retreat)

Continuing the example above, should the XIV Velites be routed instead, all stationary units other than Skirmishers or Velites would incur 1 Hit. If forced to stop in a friendly-occupied hex, the Velites would move one more hex. For stationary units other than Skirmishers/Velites, the player would apply 1 Hit, then roll a die and apply Hits equal to the die roll minus the stationary unit's TQ, if the DR was greater. For our routing Legion XIV Hastati, moving through any HA/PR/CO/TR (not stacked) from the XIV Legion/Ala would be without incident. Any other unit or stack would cost the stationary unit(s) 1 Hit. However, stopping in any occupied hex other than one with a Velites of the same color, forces a TQ check and a Cohesion Hit for the stationary unit.
