DESIGN NOTE: The stacking rules are very simple—no Voluntary Stacking—except where it applies to the Romans and the Macedonian Phalanxes. The Roman stacking rules are used to reflect their tactical flexibility while maintaining accurate line frontage for game purposes (a very important tactical factor in this era). See, also, 9.5 and 9.61.