2) they are marked with a MISSILE NO marker. A MISSILE NO marker, however, is not placed when a unit fires, but rather at the instant the unit is no longer adjacent to an enemy unit. A MISSILE NO marker is removed when the unit is once again adjacent to an enemy unit after all fire is resolved (it is no longer needed), or per the reload rule (8.18).