Whether a combat unit must attack an enemy unit depends both on its unit Type and if the unit moved, shock being a question of inertia more than weaponry.