When using the optional Engaged rule (10.4), remove ENGAGED markers from any unit that rout moves or advances; however, a Phalanx unit that advances only one hex (i.e., pivots; see 8.53) retains its marker. If either all defending units or all attacking units rout moved, advanced, or were eliminated, remove all ENGAGED markers from the other side's involved units. If both attackers and defenders have units that remained in their hexes, place (or retain) ENGAGED markers on those units.