EXAMPLE #2: A Carthaginian Heavy Infantry unit is attacking two units at once: one Hastati/Legion Infantry (through its flank) and one Velites/Light Infantry (frontally). The defender gets to choose the unit type; here he chooses the Velites, even though it is a "weaker" unit. Why? Firstly, using the Clash of Spears and Swords Chart, we will see that designating the Legion Infantry Hastati on its flank produces the 11 Shock CRT column, while the frontal attack against the Light Infantry Velites would force the attacker to use the 9 Shock CRT column. And, regardless of whom the defender chooses, the attacker has Attack Superiority, either because of type (Heavy Infantry vs. Light Infantry) or position (attacking the Hastati through its flank).
